WAYNE THIEBAUD

Wayne Thiebaud was born in Mesa, Arizona in 1920. Thiebaud is best known for his colorful and often humorous depictions of commonplace objects, such as pies, cakes, hot dogs, paint cans, and even lipsticks.

His use of single and multiple images off mass produced food has linked him to Pop Art, yet he considers himself a realist painter.

BBQ Beef, Wayne Thiebaud, Screenprint, 1970

Today we are inspired by BBQ Beef, from our temporary exhibit, Forming the Maslow Collection.

What do you see? Describe the sandwiches.

What shapes are the sandwiches? Round? Rectangular? Another shape?

What colors are used for this type of sandwich?

ACTIVITY

WAYNE THIEBAUD

Now that you are familiar with BBQ Beef, we will learn about shapes as we make our own sandwich inspired by BBQ Beef.

- What type of sandwich do you like?
- What shape is your sandwich? Triangular? Rectangular? Crust or no crust?
- What colors are used for your sandwich? How would you make it?
